You Make a Difference... Determine Your Own Future Legislative Day 2010

For every individual that attends the annual Golf Industry Legislative Day, Michigan legislators will be further convinced of the important role golf courses play in our economy. Legislators need to know that we are paying attention to legislative issues on the state level.

The stakes are high. Attend for two reasons. One, the Legislature needs to be educated regarding our industry, the issues facing us and how critical we are to the state's overall economy. Two, grassroots contact from constituents can have tremendous impact on the political process.

Legislators are more likely to act on a request when they have had direct input from you. Don't miss this opportunity to make your voice heard on issues that matter to you, your business and your association.
